What Salimaker Wilson Thinks of Mr. Car-roll's New Yacht.

city was out three days last week on the Nava-hoe. On Sunday the new eighty-four-footer had a good test of her sea-going qualities off

Brenton's Reef. Wilson, in speaking of this trial, said: "Just now the Navahoe has a crew of nine men. On Sunday last she made a trip outside Newport. The wind was very heavy and there was quite a big sea on. The heavy and there was quite a big sea on. The trysall was set, as the crew was too small to handle the realisall. She also had her jib set. Under these conditions the Navahoe beat out of Newport harbor, standing out past Brenton's lieef. She is a very easy boat in a seaway. Mr. Carroll and Capt. Barr went forward and watched her, and expressed themselves as being well pleased with her.

"With lifted sheets the Navahoe is very fast, and I was never on a boat that seemed to move as fast as she did. She takes a list, but when she gets to her bearings she holds and goes no further, no matter how strongly the wind hlows. From what I have seen of the Navahoe in her trials, she is all right. She is to be hauled out in Providence next week, but I do not know as any alterations will be made on her. She improves with every day's sailing. She is very closs-winded, and is nicely balanced. The patented duck in her sails is a grand thing, and the sails are coming out well."

Schoeler issued on Tuesday to any player in the world to play any kind of billiards. Slos-

I am out of billiards, as I have said before

"I am out of billiards, as I have said before officially. Even if I were not I would not accept Schaefer's challenge at this time, for the simple reason that it is too far ahead of time to make a match in the fall.
"I am delighted to read of Schaefer's recovery from the injury to his arm, and sincerely hope that he may recover completely his wonderful stroke. He is a good man for billiards, and always has been, and his full recovery of his skill means much for the lovers of good billiards. I would his to see Ives and Schaefer play, but it looks as though Ives doesn't want to play at ail. There may be billiards in the fall, though, worth looking at."

He said that it was a monument not only to the man Audubon, but to science and persystemic under difficulties. He teached briefly on Audubon's career.

THE AUDUBON MONUMENT. After Frof. Egieston's speech the large American liag which veiled the monument was removed by Miss Eliza Audubon, a grand-daughter of the naturalist. There was disclosed a menument 25 feet 10 inches high, in the shape of a liunic cross. The monument is of North liver bluestone, and the pedestal of Vermont granite. At the base is a sculptured likeness of Audubon, and on the shaft are carved figures of many species of American birds and animals. After the large crowd had been allowed to admire the monument several minutes Dr. Morgan Dix stepped forward and in a short speech accepted the monument on behalf of the corporation of Trinity. In part he said:

in a short speech accepted the monument on behalf of the corporation of Trinity. In part he said:

"The corporation which I represent has many trusts, but regards none of them higher or more sacred than that of boing the custodian of the distinguished dead. That corporation is as proud of the privilege of guarding the remains of John James Audubon as those of any of the other great Americans buried in its grounds, for by those canable of knowing he was thought the greatest cruithologist America has produced. I wish that I could assure you that Trinity would always guard and keen sacred this monument, but it would be useless for me to make such an assurance when so many of you are acquainted with the reent unfortunate spollation of ancient St. John's. It is hard to contend against unkind and unfirendly influence."

Among those present were ex-Mayor Tiemann, Morris K. Jesup, Daniel G. Elliott, S. Yan Hensselaer Cruger, N. L. Britton, Daniel S. Martin, Sanderson Smith, H. Carrington Botton, William Foster, the Rev. Dr. Madison C. Peters, and about thirty members of the Audation family. The Rev. Mr. Blakewell of New Orleans came on from his native city to see, the unveiling. His father and Audubon's father were partners in business.

Last night a eulogy of Audubon was delivered in the American Museum of Natural Bistory by D. G. Elliott, ex-President of the American Ornithologists' Union.

A New Hend of the Park Board-Mr. Gray

Horace liaker, an Australian traveller with a liking for boomerangs and no place to indulge in the sport, received permission to throw his crooked sticks in Van Courtlandt Park whenever he pleases. This was done after Commissioner Tappen had explained that the boomerang is a weapon which is dangerous only to the person who throws it.

Superintendent Parsons reported that the fountain in City Hall Park will have to be moved because of the location of the new manifelpal building, and he was directed to move it when the necessity shall arise.

He Tried to Murder a Girl Because She

Wouldn't Marry Him. Nineteen-year-old John McCaffrey, who made an attempt to murder Miss Sadie Duffy in Brooklyn a few months ago for refusing to marry him, was tried yesterday in the Court of Sessions in that city for assault in the first degree. The testimony showed that he accosted the girl when she was going up the stoop of a house in Hudson avenue to call on a friend and repeated his demand that she should marry him. When she refused he drew a revolver and fired two shots at her while she was retreating through the hallway. Each hullet took effect and is still longed in her body. The dectors for a long time despaired of Miss Buffy's recovery. She appeared as a witness against her assainant. She testified that she had hever loved him or encouraged his attentions.

that she had never loved him or encouraged his attentions.

The prisoner's lawyer surprised the Court by moving the dismissal of the indictment on the ground that no builted had been found, and that there was no localities testimony that any built had penetrated her body. In dismissing the motion Judge Moore said that the Governor would be matted in removing him if he were idiotic enough to dismiss the case on such grounds. The delence tried to show that the prisoner had insane tendencies and antecedents, but the jury promptly convicted him. He may get a sentence of ten years' imprisonment.

THE BEST LAID SCHEMES, &C. The Democrats of Jersey City Playing Into

Politicians in Jersey City are laughing over a blunder made by the Democratic majority in the Board of Aldermen on Tuesday night in ousting Alderman Laney of the Fourth district. Alderman Labor is a Republican, and he had another year to serve. The Republicans made a gain of three members at the -ecent election, and the next Board with Laber would stand seven Republicans and six Democrats. Somebody discovered after election Fourth district and thereby forfeited his seat Democratic and the Democrats thought they ment by a vote of 7 to 3, and a special election was ordered for Monday, April 8, to fill the vacancy.

The discovery was made yesterday, to the great chagrin of the Democrats, that a vacancy had simply been created for Republican Mayor Wainser to fill. A law massed in 1891 provides that "in cities of the first class, the charter of which provides for a special election to fill a vacancy in the office of Alderman, it shall not be necessary hereafter, if a vacancy in said office of Alderman shall occur from any cause whatever, to hold a special election to fill such vacancy, but the Mayor of said city shall appoint a resident voter of the ward in which such vacancy occurs to hold such office until the election and qualification of a successor to such appointee at the next succeeding charter election, and such appointee to fill a vacancy shall have and enjoy said office and be possessed of all the powers, and liable to perform all the duties to the same extent as any other Alderman of said city."

The resolution ordering a special election is therefore void, and Mayor Wanser will fill the vacancy by appointing some staiwart, able, and effective liepublican.

MRS. HORSTMAN'S HORSEWHIP.

She Doesn't Need a Warrant to Get Rid of A woman screaming and a man swearing about 3 o'clock yesterday morning awoke the occupants of a flat in Liberty street, Union Hill. Looking out of the windows, they saw two women and a man engaged in a scuille. The woman who was not screaming was rigorously plying a horsewhip on the head and shoulders of the man and the other woman. The woman with the horsewhip was Mrs. Jane Horstman, who owns the flat and other property in Union Hill. The identity of the man could not be established. A couple of weeks ago the woman who was horsewhipped hired ago the woman who was horsewhipped hired rooms from Mrs. Horstman, representing her-self as a dressmaker. After a few days the other tenants began to complain to Mrs. Horst-man that her new tenant was probably not a dressmaker, as all her visitors were men, and they came in the evening. Sometimes they remained until morning and raised such a racket that the other tenants were unable to sleep.

Airs, Horstman made several attempts to see her new tenant, but could not find her at home. On Thresday right she made up her mind to see her, if she remained all night. She kept watch until 3 o'clock yesterday morning, when she saw the dashing young woman and a man coming toward the house. Mrs. Horstman at once attacked them with her horsewhip and lashed them both with impartiality. The interested tenants urged her to renewed exertions. Finally the man wrenched the whip out of her hands and threw it away. He then pushed his companion into the hallway and hastened down the street. About 8 o'clock the young woman procured a truckman and had her furniture taken away, it is thought she has come to New York. Mrs. Horstman is proud of her method of getting rid of an objectionable tenant.

The opium was put on at Hamilton in a satchel The opium was put on at Hamilton in a satchel and olicioth travelling case, and was accompanied by two men, one of whom was A. L. kennedy, the opium smuggler who has been arrested several times at Detroit. Crocker went on the train to Buffalo, but no one claimed the rarcels. He afterward spotted kennedy, who had left the train, thinking that his pal would look after the opium. Crocker found that kennedy was going back to the Falls and telegraphed to an officer at the Falls to arrest him. Officer Roland nabbed Kennedy here, and he was this afternoon before United States Commissioner Pound at Lockport on a charge of smuggling opium.

THE M. A. C. NOT YET SOLD, And the Sale Adjourned for a Month-Die

postne of the Foreighings. The property of the Manhattan Athletic Club is still on the market. Not a single bid was made for it yesterday, and after waiting baif an hour Receiver Andrew Freedman adjourned the sale for one month, which will make the date May 24. A large crowd gathered at the real estate rooms, 111 Broadway, yesterday noon, all eager to see what would be the result of the sale, but none was apparently disposed to bid a cent. Among those present were George W. Carr. President of the defunct club; Treasurer Storm. Secretary Warren Sage, Capt. Eugene Van Schalek and many other members of the club. On the auctioneer's platform were Re-ceiver Freedman and his counsel, Mr. Stern. Promptly at 12 o'clock Auctioneer Meyer proceeded to tell those in front of him all about He said the upset price would be $738,000.

He said the upset price would be $728,000, whereupon the crowd seemed to fall back and look uneasy. Mr. Meyer said there had been eensiderable talk about the intentions of men who were determined to buy the property, and he invited them to step to the front and make their bids. This statement was followed by an oppressive slience.

At intervals of five minutes during the half hour from 12 to 12% o'clock, the auctioneer would remark: "Gentlemen, let me have a bid on this property." and the gentlemen would turn around to see if somebody was not coming in with the intention of bidding.

While there was no bid for the property, there was a proposal to lease it for a term of twenty years. It came from a responsible hotel proprietor, who offered an annual rental of $55,000 for a twenty years lease. The proposition included the remodelling of the building for hotel purposes, the hotel man stating that the alterations would cost $65,000 in furnishings. The proposition is under consideration.

Receiver Freedman said he could make an official statement to the affect that the the Oct and that he would spend $150,000 in furnishings. The proposition is under consideration.

Receiver Freedman said he could make an official statement to the effect that the Hirmonic Club did not want the property and would make no hid for it. Mr. Freedman is of the opinion that had the second mortgage bondholders accepted his suggestion to scale down their holdings and take 15 cents on the dollar there might have been a sale, as on that basis he could have made the upset price about $150,000.

The ground will now have to be gone over again, and it highly probable the Iselins will foreclose the $400,000 first mortgage which they hold. Meanwhile the house will be stripped of its furnishings, the bont house will be stripped of its furnishings, the bont house will be sold, and the Cherry Diamond will be completely dismantled. Referring to Manhattan Field, Mr. Freedman said that athletic organizations did not exhibit a desire to take advantage of the facilities offered by the fine ground, and unless it received botter support he would turn the field to a purpose that would till more to the creditors.

At 30 clock yesterday afternoon the work of selling the furnishings in the Cherry Diamond plance began. Auctioneer William Mount started in the roof garden, and auctioned off a miscellaneous collection of bedroom and office furniture, rugs, carpets, &c. A crowd of 200 persons gathered in the garden and engaged in a spirited bidding for the goods.

The only thing that reminded onlookers of the athletic club was a pair of sweeps with the cherry diamond standing out red and denant on the blade. They might at some time have swished through the water so iast as to bring trophies and glory to the M. A. C., but yesterday they were dusty and splintered. Nobody seemed to want a pair of sweeps with the auctioneer tossed them carelessly into a corner.

The goods in the garden were nearly all disposed of waterday, but as there was nothed. from the sales. The auctioneer will continue the sales, going from room to room. till the house is dismantled. As to-day is a holiday, there will be no sale. To-morrow, teginning at 10 A. M., the kitchen, dining room and hedroom furniture will be sold. Salurday, at 10 A. M., the furniture and carpets on the lower floors will be disposed of: at 2 P. M. on the same day the library and books will be sold; also at 2 P. M. on Saturday the boat house and contents will be auctioned, the sale taking place at 157th street and Eighth avenue. On Monday, May 1, the reading room, cafe, and billiard tables will go under the hammer, and on Tuesday, May 2, the silverware, glassware, china, and linen will be knocked down. May 3 will make the final day of the sale, when the stock of wines and liquors will be sold.

Grain Blockade in Buffaio. BUFFALO, April 261-The fleet which arrived here during the past two days is blocking the harbor and the elevators. Elevator managers were of the opinion that they could easily handle the large amount of grain pouring into this port, but as the canal is not open they are this port, but as the canal is not open they are hampered. Judging from appearances, there will be a blockade in the near future. New York is reported full of grain, and there is but a slight domestic and foreign demand, so, unless there is a favorable change in the general situation, this port will have a grain blockade detrimental to business in general. The western division of the Eric Canal will be opened May 3, and the eastern division on May 5. As to the central division, nothing definite has been decided upon as yet.

From the papers in the suits it appears that this Senator, after his relapse from the Keeley care, became sick and left his hotel. An obliging woman, who keeps a notorious house on James street, took care of him, and he lived in her house for some time. She brought suit against him for $115,25 for ledging and board, including champagne. The keeper of another house brought suit against him for $30 more. There were several hundred dollars of back salary coming to him at the end of the session, and these women waited until the adjournment of the Legislature, in the hope that they might be paid out of the money coming to him from the State. When the Senator left town without settling they brought suit and got judgment by default. The bill of items makes interesting reading.
